Everyone wants a kitchen that looks good and is well equipped with high quality appliances. The good news is that today's kitchens can do much more than that. Modern kitchens can be tailored to individual needs and lifestyles. The result is optimal space usage and top quality motion.

Experience has shown that most people keep their kitchen for about 20 years. So it's a good idea to carefully consider your needs and wants before buying one. After all, the kitchen is the room we use most in our homes. It should be a place for fun; a place we want to be. And that's exactly what 'Perfecting your kitchen' is all about.

DYNAMIC SPACE

Apart from the obvious, a new kitchen should also be fun. DYNAMIC SPACE is a tool to ensure that your new kitchen gives you a perfect working and living environment.

Combining quality of space with quality of motion, DYNAMIC SPACE uses zone planning to take kitchen storage, organisation and ergonomics to new levels. At the heart of this tool is the kitchen plan incorporating five activity zones: consumables, non-consumables, cleaning, preparation and cooking.

Learn more about DYNAMIC SPACE. Request a copy of the brochure by sending an email to info.sg@blum.com.

Consumables

As the name says, this zone contains consumables such as canned food, rice and pasta as well as refrigerated and frozen products. In simple terms, most grocery shopping is stored here.

Non-consumables

This activity zone is used to store items such as dishes, glasses and cutlery. It is also an ideal location for “odds and ends” (i.e. stationery, pens, household papers, etc.)

Cleaning

Cleaning accommodates bins for waste collection and storage as well as cleaning agents and utensils. The sink and dishwasher are also in this zone.

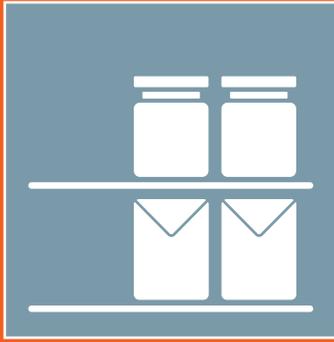

Preparation

The main worktop is in the preparation zone. This is where most preparations are made. Items such as kitchen utensils, knives, small electrical appliances, chopping boards, spices and mixing bowls are all located in this zone.

Cooking

This activity zone contains the hob, oven, steamer, microwave, extractor hood, pots, pans, cooking utensils and baking trays.

The consumables zone – for provisions

The consumables zone is the place to keep foods that you use for cooking and baking. These are provisions such as canned food, rice, pasta as well as refrigerated and frozen products.

We are talking about a huge amount of food that has to be stored away. No problem for TANDEMBOX. Thanks to its high back and side walls, the pull-out system provides more space and makes use of every inch of storage space.

The cleaning zone is one of the most important areas in a kitchen because it is used so often.

The storage space under the sink is, however, frequently forgotten. Blum's sink cabinet is a fine example of an innovative application that "generates" extra space. The TANDEMBOX sink unit helps you make better and more intelligent use of valuable storage space.

Cooking zone

Cooking zone

The cooking zone is where dishes are prepared for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Close to the hob, oven, microwave and extractor hood, this area accommodates items such as cooking and baking utensils, pots and pans as well as cookbooks.

Cooking zone

It's best to keep the cooking utensils you regularly use close to the hob and immediately to hand. In this way, they're exactly where they're needed. The TANDEMBOX pull-out system is available with full extension, giving you clear visibility and full access to all drawer contents.
